PLANEX starting to partner with MOBILE TECHNICA Inc, for Corporate VoIP solutions

Tokyo Japan - June 9, 2006 - PLANEX COMMUNICATIONS INC. (CEO: Katsuaki Kubota located at Shibuya-ku Tokyo. hereinafter called PLANEX) announced it is cooperating with MobileTechnica Inc.(CEO: Toshikazu Nemoto located at Shinjyuku-ku hereinafter called MT) and agreed on cooperation on providing the corporate VoIP solutions centered on integrated gateway function called "xCube" developed by MT.

In addition, the influence of our current revenue coming from this business tie-up has now been calculated. We will inform as soon as it's finished.

Recently Planex and MT will cooperate with each other to strengthen the planex's corporate VoIP solutions. MT will supply Planex with self-developed VoIP devices, and VoIP-related software. And Planex will supply the VoIP solutions for corporations through a nationwide distribution network.

xCube "The integrated access gateway" has been starting up their shippings since Feb, 2006. and has already exceeded the total volume of shipments by two thousands units for four months since the first shipping.

This cooperation will let both companies provide the suitable solutions for enlarging their target clientele by combining Planex's products and Services and xCube of MT.

In addition, xCube will be displayed at booth # 1K17 at Interop Tokyo, in Makuhari Messe from June7-9.
